

Dear Researcher,

On behalf of the Universidad Autónoma de Querétaro (UAQ), we extend our warmest welcome. It is an honor for our university community to receive you at this public higher education institution, committed to academic excellence, inclusion, gender equity, and the internationalization of knowledge.

Every year, UAQ welcomes researchers, students, and academic staff from diverse backgrounds and regions of the world, fostering an environment that encourages interdisciplinary dialogue, critical thinking, and global collaboration.

During your stay, you will find in our university an open, diverse, and supportive community, with academic, cultural, and social spaces that promote respectful exchange of ideas and experiences.

We are pleased to count on your presence and participation, confident that your contribution will strengthen networks of shared knowledge and enrich our university life.

Welcome to Universidad Autónoma de Querétaro!

We hope your experience here will be meaningful, productive, and fulfilling.

Sincerely,

Office of Internationalization
